“ Mama.... I have not shed a tear since your passing. Since a child, I had prayed that you would surrender to Christ your life. You were like the thief on the cross that finally saw Christ in the end. And that is all that matters. You made peace with everyone of us. Even right down to the end with an open glance into a beautiful face, that was crying out her soul. I was thankful to see that but I was more thankful for the confirmation God gave me in that last day that He would remember you in paradise. I ask Jesus to tell you that I love and miss you all the time. And without Him, I know that I would never see you again. I know you are in the presence of Agape Love in worship, before God. Time sits differently in heaven. It will be like tomorrow's sunrise that we all join you worshipping Our Father, Our Lord and Savior, The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob! Your death was not in vain and gives God the glory in your passing to His presence!

See you tomorrow morning mama, in Jesus name!

And for all the siblings, nieces, nephews, reading this, I want you to know that I love you! I have not wanted anything more than a true relationship with you with Christ as the foundation. Do not let satan divide you from your family, spouses, children like he did from our mother. Without Christ as our Savior we will only pass down the generational curses from our mother and fathers down to our children, grandchildren, great grandchildren to the 3rd and 4th generation like God said. Please know this life will soon fade away and Jesus is coming soon. The signs are manifesting on this earth and Biblical prophecy is unfolding. I pray that we will all be standing next to each other in the presence of Abba Father joining our mother/meme in worship. Please do not let hate divide us. God says to love each other deeply because it covers a multitude of sins. I love you all and pray for all of your souls as well as your fathers. We had one more brother before Clay. I do not know who he is today but God does.

Our circles will cross again. God is not done with us yet! Imagine how great we are to be used for Gods Army if satan is trying to destroy us so greatly. Pray and fast, it is deliverance, it is worship.

And God will break any chain in your life when you do this. Even the mental illnesses afflicting us from generational witchcraft. Break those chains and be set free. I love you all and I would not tell you this if I did not love you. You know the truth, be set free in Jesus Christ
