“ My son, I could fill a book with memories of you, some of my fondest memories were when you were only 4,5&6 and the local bands in Schulenburg Texas were kind enough that when they were going to sing Rhinestone Cowboy, they would let you come up on stage and give you a microphone and you'd sing at the top of you little lungs, "Like a Rhinestone Cowboy, riding out on a horse in a star spangled rodeo." .. I loved you first and loved you to the end. You loved life and especially playing and singing with the bands.. You were also a really good father. If there really is a special place in Heaven called Hillbilly Heaven, I know you are singing away with all the greats.
