“Cody was a great kid! His heart went out to anyone who needed anything. All he wanted in life was to find his love and I believe he did. His girlfriend is his soul mate and I'm glad he got to experience that from her! He lives with me only a few short years but I gained another son during that time, and now I've lost one to soon. But I know we will see each other again until then son I love you forever and miss you even more!
