“ Grandma you are and will be missed! I wanted to share just two great memories I have about grandma. Many years ago when I was living in Midland she made me lunch but instead of just making it she taught me how to make it. It was Pipian! To this day it is one of my favorite things to make.

The last time I got to see grandma I was driving back from arizona to Dallas and as always I had to make the obligatory stop at Jumburrito. I then went to grandma's. When she open the door it took her minute (and me telling her) for her to realize who I was. When she realized she had the biggest smile. My wife was with me and got to meet her. We sat and talked for hours and she told me how my aunts and uncles were helping take care of her and that meals on wheels would deliver her food. I asked how it was and she just made a face. I asked her if she wanted a jumburrito cause I just had picked up a bunch. Again with a slight nod of her head she said “well if you have one!” Tia Di probably was not to happy with me when she showed up a little later but grandma and I were ok with it.

I know her hand is now gentle being held by the very large hands of my Grandpa and they are smiling together. Love you grandma!
