“ When I first met John, I was a teenager and dating his son. I thought he was so tough and intimidating but it didn't take long for me to learn what a softie he was. He was so good to my husband and his brother and raised them as they were his own. Each time I talked to him over the years he put a smile on my face. Our time with him was way too short and we miss him so much already.

“ One of the best friends I ever had. John had an amazing heart and ability to see the good in people. My "teddy bear", my friend, I considered him my brother! This world is a little darker with him gone. I love you John!
