

John Phillip Yusko, II

December 6, 1963 - July 7, 2025

John Phillip Yusko II, 61, of Midland, Texas, passed away on July 7, 2025, at Midland Memorial Hospital.

John was born on December 6, 1963, in Liberty, New York, to John Yusko and Sandra (Bauernfeind) Haas. A dedicated and diligent man, John spent his career as a supervisor at a rock quarry, where his strong work ethic and commitment earned the respect of many.

More than just a hardworking man, John was deeply compassionate. He had a generous heart and was always willing to lend a helping hand to those in need. His life was rooted in faith—he was a devoted churchgoer and found purpose in serving others, volunteering at local homeless shelters and halfway houses. His quiet acts of kindness left a lasting impression on many lives.

John is survived by his sister, Dianne Rowe of Sulphur Springs, Texas. He will be remembered not only for his tireless work and generosity but also for the love and support he offered to his community and family.

A memorial service will be held at a later date.

“ John was such a nice caring man who always made me laugh and told me many stories about his childhood. He would come visit twice a week at my job with his friend he always would say he likes to keep his round figure going lol. We grew so close it's hard not seeing him every week but I know god had a better plan for him, he's looking down on us now with such a big smile! He always lent a hand to those in need with nothing in return he was jus such a good guy I'll never forget him! May john rest in paradise, after working so hard all these years he's finally getting the rest he needed:)

“ A very Godly man, always took time to check on me and my children. He always made sure I had my medication, food for the kiddos, especially on holidays.. When I thanked him onetime and he responded "That what big brothers do." I was so touched I was blessed. Thank you Lord for my big brother. I will surely miss him.

“ John was one of kind, when I started working with John he was my muscle for any heavy lifting . He gave 100 percent . Through the years he would often come and talk to me he knew I was a good listener at times he would ask for advice . He would come to me when he wanted to know about computers myself not knowing alot I was glad to help john and I being from same generation per computers . John was at communication he always kept me informed with operations at work . John had a deep passion for Quality at his job. Often he would get discouraged i would encourage him hang in there it will get better. I can not say enough of what a remarkable man he was. I still am looking for him to pull in the gate at work. He always said good morning. I pray that his family heal with joy in there hearts that he will not be forgotten. Mark Green
