“ It's hard to believe you are gone. I can still hear your voice, probably saying a cuss word or two, but you always made me laugh! And I can still see your smile, it would light up a room! You had an appointment today- and it was so hard to cancel it... Knowing that there won't be any more. I know your life was hard, and your struggles were many, but you lived unapologetically and you had a heart of gold that you guarded and shared only with those you deemed worthy. And your dogs were your world, and you loved them fiercely! I know Sammy was waiting to greet you with Lily and Ebony right behind him. I will miss you dearly, but I am so thankful you will finally know peace. I love you Lisa!
