

Mary Margaret Lehnerd

May 13, 1962 - June 10, 2021

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Patrick -Chuck - Katie- Paul- Michael -- My heart goes out to each of you. So many good memories of Maggie and our times together growing up -- Keeping you all in my prayers.

Love you

Rene

Lorene Pastor - June 24, 2021 at 10:00 PM

AD

“ I’m Maggie’s cousin, Artie. My goodness was I a pain in the neck to her and her siblings while growing up. My parents would shop me off to this fantasy land known as Applewood Acres, where, truthfully I believed dreams did come true. I was able to get away from home which I was certain was more of a prison given how strict my mom was 😭😭. Uncle Chuck and Aunt MaryPat made me feel so welcome. Probably got away with bad behaviors much more than Maggie and my cousins did. Trust me. I was a handful. Always wanting their attention no matter what they were doing. Each of my cousins put up with me, which I was so thankful for. I’m particular, Maggie always made me feel wanted and welcomed. The others did as well and yet Maggie somehow knew that behind my annoying behaviors was simply a little kid who was a bit scared and confused as to why he was constantly shipped away.

No matter where we saw each other as the years rolled on - Skips Barn, Family “Gatherings,” weddings, funerals - Maggie would make me feel welcome. With that huge smile and admittedly a typically sarcastic comment, it was all based upon and rooted in love. Pure. Plain. And Simple.

I’m quite moved and sad about Maggie’s passing. This is the first in our generation since Susie 53 years ago. Maggie, my wish is that you’re home with our loved ones and can throw an occasional good vibe our way.

Forever and always. Your younger cousin who loves you. Artie.

Art DuRivage - June 23, 2021 at 11:45 AM

MD

“ My thoughts are with family and friends of my cousin Maggie during this sad time. Thinking of her laugh makes me smile. Peace to all.

Mary Jo Durivage - June 23, 2021 at 11:43 AM