

Thomas Grant Mollohan

December 8, 2011

Thomas Grant Mollohan, age 40, of Odessa, passed away Thursday, December 8, 2011 at Hospice House in Odessa.

He is survived by his mother, Ollie Mollohan of Odessa; four brothers, Danny Fluharty of Nacona, TX, Doug Fluharty of Henrietta, TX and Mike Fluharty of Odessa; one sister, Sharon Kay Tammalavich of Fort Lauderdale, FL.

Tom was a professional tattoo artist in Ohio and Florida. For those of us that were lucky enough to get a tattoo by Tom, we are honored to wear his art forever.

Tom's time spent in Florida was short, but he made a big impact on everyone he met. Soon after arriving, he became involved with the non-profit group the New World Celts, volunteering at their events and fundraisers to raise money for scholarships that promote the Celtic culture. He embraced his heritage, and even traced his roots to 1751 in Ireland.

He found a new love of sports while here, playing the Irish sport of Hurling for the Orlando Hurling Club. His team mates became like family as they practiced hard and traveled together for matches. He joined the team in March of 2011 for their victory over Atlanta.

We would like to thank the angels at the Hospice House, and his provider Bea, John Martin Smith, and Joe Nicholas who visited with him every day until the end. We are blessed for the time we did get to share with him, and he will be greatly missed by all who knew him

“ When he lived in Bluegrove, he would come to my house almost every weekend. He would be in his boots, cut off shorts, & shirt. I wish I would have stayed in touch with him. He was my first best friend!
