

Trevor Abram Brown

January 18, 2007 - July 31, 2013

The Lord blessed us with our bright, beautiful “Bug” January 18, 2007 at 10:57 am. On July 31, 2013 at 11:45 am, God called our angel home. Some souls shine too brightly for this Earth. Trevor was such a blessing, a joy to our family and everyone that met him. Trevor loved God and “God’s green Earth.” He couldn’t pass by trash on the ground without picking it up. He had a mission to clean up Earth. He was also a saver of trees. He loved finding the seedlings of our Locust tree coming up in the yard, and replanting. Trevor loved his family and found great joy in them. He loved his bike, and his mom and he was often found traversing their neighborhood. He loved Iron Man, Spiderman, Thor, and Dash. He loved giving “squeezey” hugs and still liked a bear to hang on to go to sleep. His hugs and kisses and “I Love You’s” were the best any parent could hope for. He loved Sponge Bob, The Nightmare Before Christmas (or Jack as he called it), The Last Air Bender, Harry Potter and so much more. He was a little snuggle bug. He loved his iPad. The amount of joy and love he brought into our lives is indescribable. When he grew up, he wanted to go to college so that he could be “super” smart like Tony Stark, and be able to build an Iron Man suit. He loved his cousins so much and considered them more so like brother and sisters than cousins. Sophia, Malchaia, Jeremiah, Laurelai were joys to him. He was so excited at the pending arrival of his newest cousin Julia. He’s looking down on us all, our beautiful guardian angel. The grief at his loss has been crippling. However, his loss has not been in vain. A one year old in California received his liver. One kidney went to a child in Ft.

Worth the other went to a child in Houston. His heart valves went to another child. Many thanks for all of the prayers and love from the community. Thanks to the paramedics with OFD and the staff at MCH. A very special thanks to officers Heather Carrasco and Brandon Blake for fighting so valiantly for our child. A very special thanks also to the staff at the pediatric ICU at UMC. I have never seen a better group of health care workers.

Trevor is survived by his mother, Lorena O'Neal; his father, Travis Brown; his maternal grandparents, Marilyn and Mark Billings; his paternal grandparents, Kathy Brown and Eric Heard and Tracy Brown and Carrie Owens; his great grandparents, Grace and Bill Wilkerson and Margaret Owens; his aunt, Janette O'Neal and cousins, Sophia, Malchaia, Jeremiah, and Julia; his aunt Trina Gillis cousin, Laurelai; his uncle Kevin Swinford. He also is survived by so many great aunts and uncles, second, third cousins and a large extended family.

In lieu of flowers, please send live plants. Better yet, go clean up a highway, a park, or a parking lot, or go plant a tree.

“ Ride free with the angels, little superhero.”

“ 7 years seemed such a long time to have lived without trevmo the last time i wrote here. now we're at 11 and not a day goes by where i dont think of my absolute best friend. in only 4 years, he showed me more love and joy than most; making what little of my childhood he got to be a part of the absolute best part. Im starting to think i will never be able to talk about our bug without crying, but i thank God for the ability to have turned those tears into ones of comfort with the idea that he is at peace with a couple of those he loved most, our papa and God. Though I still believe he was far too young to have left us, and i wish to have had even just one more day with him, I truly believe his soul was too pure for this earth and that God knew he belonged back home with only love and light, because he was the brightest light of love that had ever shone on this family. I love you forever trevmo, and i still look up to you just as i did when you were the closest thing i ever had to a big brother. until we meet again, bearhugs from afar bubba!

“ It’s been about 7 years so I’ve decided to share about him. Trevor was my cousin but he was always like a brother and I’ve always called him my brother, he was a kind hearted, loving, and accepting person. He was one of the people I could tell anything to. We lost each other too early (ages 4 and 6) I was by his side for as long as I could be and I wish everyday that I could go back and tell him to not get on that bike but he’s in a better place now. He doesn’t have to see what our world become. Rest easy Trevmo. Love, sissy

“ Trevor was a very bright young man who made those around him feel special. Rosalyn remembers the times around him ,at her party,at the park,and him telling her he would help her. Rosalyn said Trevor is walking with Jesus and Jesus is hugging him. He has touched peoples lives so many ways in the short amount of time he was here . God Bless Him and all of you! Lynette
