“ One time me and my dad went to cinergy and we had the time of our lives. we ate good food and we played almost all the games, until I got the worst news of my life... He past away. But then I remembered that he can watch over me then he can watch me grow up. And I still hear his voice in the car for school he says "Always do what's right even when no one is looking." And then I finish my day off with him.
