

Wayne D. Cave

July 12, 1957 - July 27, 2020

It is with my greatest sadness that our sweet Wayne D. Cave, age 63, has gone to be with our Lord. Wayne is preceded in death by his mom - Maureen Gass Cave, dad - Bill Cave, and sister - Robyn Cave Pierson. Wayne is survived by his wife, Eulene Brymer Cave; two sons - Brad Cave, and Ben & Vidya Cave; two step-children - Michael & Kathy Powell and Elisha Powell Jenkins. Seven grandchildren: Taylor and Kadie Strickland, Tanner and Patrick, and Kayden Jenkins, Haylen and Lillian Cave. Wayne also loved a special aunt and uncle, Marlene and Robert Hooper.

Wayne was kind, funny, and had a good heart. He was an avid fisherman, hunter and loved spending his time at the lake with his family. Wayne graduated from Monahans High School 1975 and attended Texas Tech on a football scholarship. Wayne worked for Bowden Construction Company in Odessa for many years and made many friends.

“ Missing you especially hard today Sweetheart. I look at your chair and immediately miss your laugh, your stories, and you. I've taken care of what you asked me to baby.

The kids and grandsons were talking about you and the things that each one remembers. Our lake/jet ski days, football trips, and sightseeing trips. You and I were lucky to have two separate family lives. We got to experience one thing with kids and then a different experience with grandchildren. We were truly blessed. I love you Baby.

“ Wayne you will be greatly missed. I'm so thankful for the time we had with you and all the fun things we did. I know you were not my dad but we had discussions about this. No more abuse from people who did not care if you ate or bathed on a daily basis. It's easy to call but to actually provide day to day care; it was just too tough for some people. No more wasted tears on people who wouldn't even come check on you when they came to town and no more anguish from people who couldn't even bathe you one time in their life. I'm thankful for you allowing us to pick up those pieces to make your life better. I'm also thankful for being the one to feed you your two last meals. I know you loved my mom and appreciated her faithfulness. My boys appreciated you being a grandfather to them and I appreciated you for all the things you taught them. Until next time Wayne. May you Rest In Peace.

It's getting too thick here I need to put my wadding boots on. And his last words to me " I've been robbed" we all knew different.

May he finally Rest In Peace. We ( the Caves) his blood family was there to pick up the pieces when he was Left abandoned with nothing for 10 years. For 10 years we ( the Cave family ) were there. Until ... After 10 years just 2 years ago When he has spent the last 6 months of it in a nursing home where he never wanted to be. And he was helpless to surrender to a take over. The Caves And his close friends and other family were there indeed to witness and to see it all. THOSE are the conversations we had about it all. And to take all he had just 2 weeks before he passed away and not be home where his family could sit by his side. THAT is what we know. I am so grateful he is free and in a better place. I pray you now have your guns and are hunting in Heaven and remember the shooting days we all did as a family .

Coni, many times in our conversations Wayne mentioned how mean hearted and vindictive you were. Now I believe it. You are obviously jealous of the relationship my mom and Wayne have. Wayne was the one that asked my mom to get married and it was the doctors making decisions about keeping Wayne in the nursing home strictly due to his health. And, you don't have a clue about our feelings regarding Wayne. We love him still. You are evil and feeling guilty for posting this stuff on Wayne's obit.

“ Thank you for the fun times at Balmorhea and the jet skiing at the lake. I remember your specialty of S’mores! You taught me many things and I couldn’t have asked for a better step granddaddy. I love you Wayne.

“ It’s been several days now that you have left me to be in a better place sweetheart. I miss you every single day, your sweet smile, your tender kisses, and your great big hugs. I miss our long talks and your stories were always funny. I will always love you my darling. Good night until I see you again.

Last words he left to me he was robbed by you. He called me all the time and told me how he was treated by you and we talked about how you treated his own kids and family. Everyone knows what you say is all lies.

Coni, you are so insecure to put this stuff on my husband’s obituary. He was right about one thing - you are extremely immature. I could post the things Wayne said about you and Gerry but this is about him. Please have some class and if you have some to say - please call me instead of putting this on Wayne’s page. I do not have your number because you are only the ex that cheated on Wayne from the get go. It’s our friends that were here to help out and it’s our friends that still call because they care. Shame on you.

“ Wayne, I'll always remember the way you would tell a story, your laugh, smile. I know you're in a better place and with your mom, dad and sister. The last years have been a challenge for you. But all that's over. Rest In Peace. God Bless.

“ Wayne I am blessed by the family you gave me. I will always remember our conversations through the years and just the other day.

Always remember the family times and blessings from that. You are now in peace with no more abuse or being taken advantage of. I am happy you have been released from all that and now your body is free from disease and you are now with your mom, daddy and Robin and also with my family too. You and Mike behave up there with God. Remember the good times with Brad and Ben and the grandkids Haylen and Lily and all your family Gerry, Mary. Aunt Marlene and all other aunts and uncles. Times no one can ever take from our memories and hearts.
