

William J. Phillips

January 13, 1960 - January 22, 2014

William J. Phillips, “BJ”, surrounded by his family, rode from this life to the next on January 22, 2014. He was 54 years old.

BJ’s passions where simple, he loved his family and he loved his motorcycles! He loved to cruise the open road on his “chopper” which gave him, he said, time to think and meditate on things about life. The love and enjoyment he received from his motorcycles was only matched by his dear wife Heather Phillips, and family.

He is remembered for his sense of humor, and making others laugh. He loved chocolate and peanut butter, and Diet Dr. Pepper! Everyone who knew BJ knows he was a hard worker. He was always early to rise to get the day started, riding his motorcycle to work. Except for Friday, which was his day to unwind with a cold beer.

BJ was a person of faith who had made his peace with God and could often be found in prayer, even up to his final days this side of heaven.

He will be dearly missed by all those who knew him.

He is survived by his wife, Heather Phillips; mother, Anna Phillips; sons, C.J. Williams, Ronnie Barber, Donnie Barber; grandchildren, C.J. Williams, Jr.,

Cayla Williams, Carly Williams, Johnathan Barber, Breanna Barber, Blake Barber, Laken Block and Brexton Block; brother, Michael C. Phillips; sister, Sandra N. Scoggings.

Viewing will be Friday, January 24, 2014 from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and Saturday, January 25, 2014 from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m at the American Heritage chapel (4100 N FM 1788). Services will be January 26, 2014 at 6:00 p.m. at Redemption Church with Josh Green officiating.

All arrangements are entrusted to American Heritage Cemetery and Funeral Home.

“ I remember when he went to the VFW midnight hall to play and he was in the bar drinking. He came in the bingo hall got on the wheelchair and started to race around. Then he ended up by entrance and he was trying to pop a wheelly and drink a beer at the same time. When he fell back hit the wall. U was fine but heather was so embarrassed but we all laughed because he was so funny. He had a great sense of humor! He will be will missed!!!

“ I remember growing up with BJ in my life. Was one my dad's (Deano Harris) best friends. I enjoyed listening to BJ sing " every rose has a thorn". He was always a fun, loving man. Heather and BJ were a huge part of my kid years, and I hold every memory close to my heart.
