“ I did not know your loved one, but I am so sorry for your loss. The majority of us are not strangers to loss. Many who have experienced loss find these practical suggestions helpful. Allow yourself time to grieve, talk about your thoughts and feelings, accept help, draw closer to God, visualize the resurrection. Doing these things has given many people, myself included, the strength to go on. My sincere condolences at this difficult time.

“ Little mister Wyatt was my godson. The day I first held him and saw his little smile, I fell head over heels. Every time I'd go to Tori and Chris's apartment I'd always say okay time for baby time. He will live on in everyone's hearts and souls forever. RIP babyboy I love you with all of my heart.
